

Puerto Rico Professional Licensure Disclosure | Certified Public Accountant (CPA)

Overview

DeVry University and its Keller Graduate School of Management are committed to providing students with accurate information to help students make informed decisions about their education.

The educational and non-educational prerequisites for Certified Public Accountant (CPA) licensure can vary significantly from state to state and U.S. territory. These variations encompass the number of accounting and business course hours, experience, exam success, background checks¹, and ethical compliance. Understanding these differences is key to determining a student's eligibility to sit for the Uniform CPA exam and apply for licensure in different jurisdictions. The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs regulations mandate institutions to transparently disclose any additional non-educational requirements necessary to obtain the license or certification for which the program of education is designed to provide preparation.

¹Results of a background check may disqualify an individual from obtaining licensure. As such, it is your responsibility to determine if your circumstances pose any barriers.

Education Requirements

- Complete 150 semester hours of general college education.
- Baccalaureate degree from a nationally or regionally accredited college/university.
- 32 semester hours (48 quarter hours) in accounting.
- 32 semester hours (48 quarter hours) in general business.
- Minimum 2.0 GPA in accounting and business courses.

Experience Requirements

One (1) year of full-time experience in the areas of public accounting, industry/private practice, or academia:

- Must include a minimum of 1,820 qualifying hours.
- Experience must be verified by a CPA in good standing. (Supervision is not required by a CPA)
- A minimum of three (3) years part-time experience is acceptable.

Ethics Requirements

Puerto Rico CPA candidates do not need to take an ethics exam to apply for licensure.

Other Requirements

- Pass all four sections of the CPA Exam with a score of at least 75 in each section within an 18-month window.
- Be of at least 21 years of age.
- Applicant must be a citizen of the United States.
- Applicant must be a resident, have a place of business or be employed in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.
- Applicant must present a Certificate of Good Conduct from the Police Department indicating that he/she has not been convicted of a felony or misdemeanor that implies moral turpitude.
- Applicant must provide a Certificate of Compliance with ASUME.
- Applicant must obtain a certificate of membership with the Puerto Rico CPA Society.

DVU Licensure Programs

The following DVU programs meet the educational requirements for CPA licensure in the Puerto Rico:

- Master of Science in Accounting - Certified Public Accountant (CPA) Exam Preparation Emphasis
- Master of Accounting and Financial Management – Certified Public Accountant (CPA) Exam Preparation Emphasis

It is important to note that these determinations apply to individuals holding a bachelor's degree in accounting or a business degree with a focus on accounting or finance. DeVry's bachelor's degrees in accounting and business were used as a baseline for these determinations, and checking with your state board of accountancy is recommended to ensure that all specific educational requirements for licensure are satisfied.

CPA Review Courses

Credits obtained from CPA exam review courses cannot be used to fulfil the mandatory concentration in accounting coursework in the following states: FL, KS, NJ, NY, TX, and VT.

Accreditation

DeVry University is accredited by The Higher Learning Commission (HLC), www.hlcommission.org. The University's Keller Graduate School of Management is included in this accreditation.

Our Accounting Degrees are accredited by the Accreditation Council for Business Schools and Programs (ACBSP) www.acbsp.org. Please refer to the academic catalog for details.

Student Relocation

Students who intend to relocate should notify the DeVry University of their location change and review the professional licensure requirements of that state's professional licensing board. Visit the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy to find the contact information, as well as a listing of statutes for the State Board of Accountancy in each of the 55 jurisdictions. For additional information about student relocation, please refer to the student relocation notice within the academic catalog.

Other Accounting Related Programs

The programs listed below are not specifically designed to prepare students for licensure. However, they offer valuable knowledge and resources that can provide a foundation in accounting and business concepts as well as practical skills.

The undergraduate programs are classified as pre-licensure programs. For example, every state and territory require a minimum of 150 semester credits of specific coursework for CPA licensure eligibility. Generally, undergraduate programs do not provide enough credits to meet this requirement. Nevertheless, students can leverage the credits earned in these undergraduate programs toward the licensure requirements.

The Graduate Certificate in Accounting Certification Preparation program, with a Certified Public Accountant Exam Preparation option is designed to help students prepare to sit for the CPA exam by offering practical resources and focused exam preparation. Additionally, the program may offer a few extra credits in certain states to help students qualify for CPA licensure.

The remaining programs provide advanced knowledge and skills in accounting and finance to equip students for various non-licensure accounting and finance roles, such as financial analyst, management accountant, internal auditor, budget analyst, and financial manager.
